

GARDEN DESIGN JOURNAL

MARCH 2010 / ISSUE 92 / £4

NEWS EVENTS
COMMENT
OBJECTS AND MORE

www.sgd.org.uk

GREEN SCREENS
PLANTS FROM NEW ZEALAND
DESIGN IN ESTONIA

ON TOP FORM

Modernist desert gardens designed by Steve Martino

NEWS/GARDENS/DESIGNERS/PLANTING/SUSTAINABLE DESIGN/BOOKS/COURSES/EVENTS
THE JOURNAL FOR THE SOCIETY OF GARDEN DESIGNERS

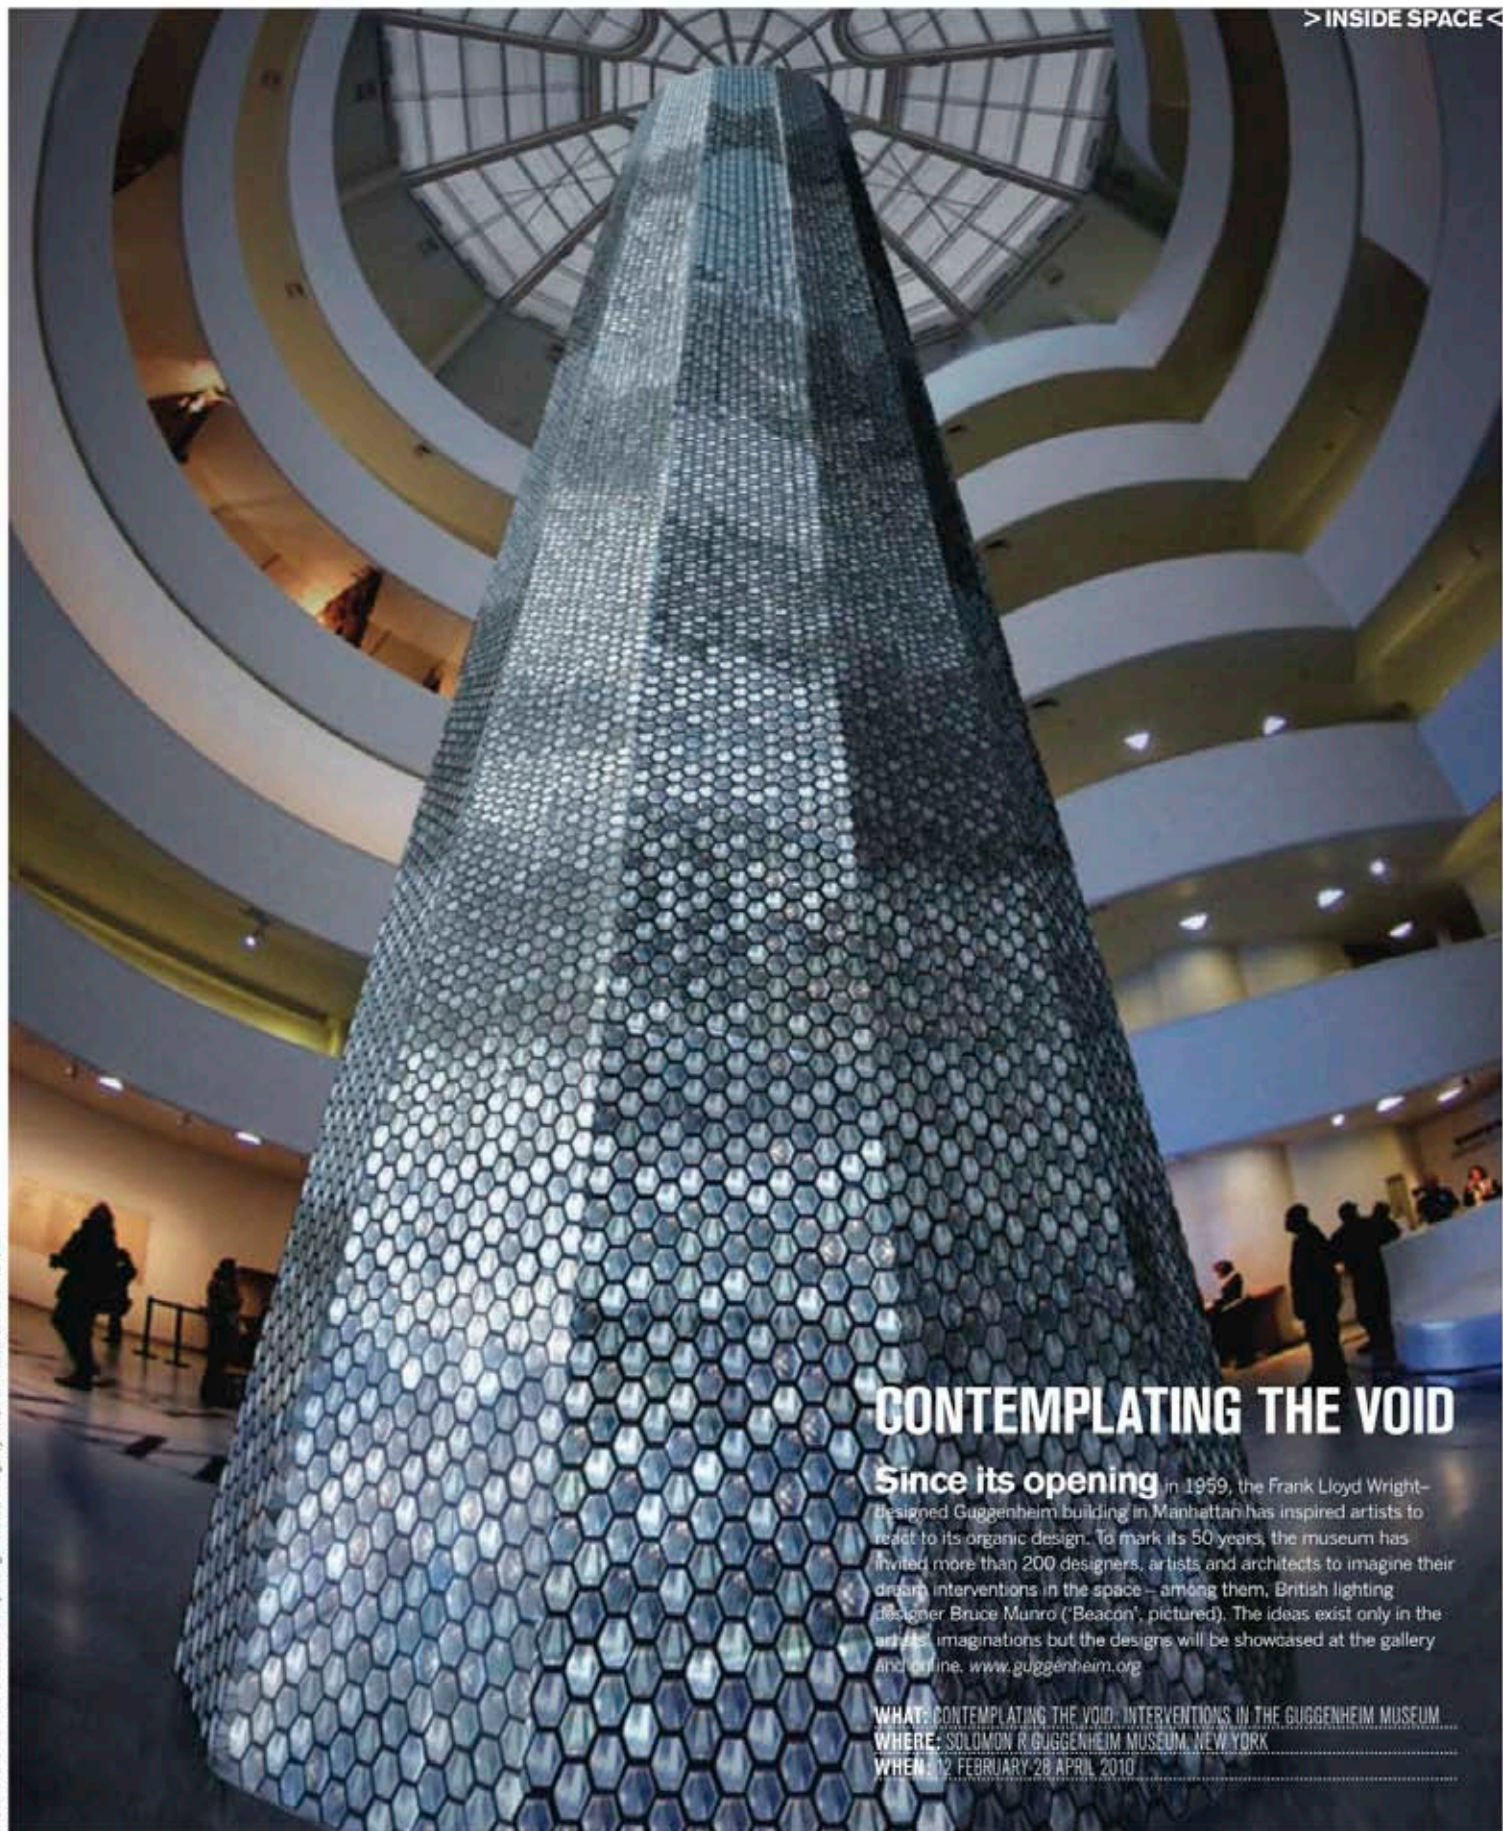

Photo: Bruce Munro's 'Beacon'. Computer-generated image by Stephen Weeks & Mark Piddell

CONTEMPLATING THE VOID

Since its opening in 1959, the Frank Lloyd Wright-designed Guggenheim building in Manhattan has inspired artists to react to its organic design. To mark its 50 years, the museum has invited more than 200 designers, artists and architects to imagine their dream interventions in the space – among them, British lighting designer Bruce Munro ('Beacon', pictured). The ideas exist only in the artists' imaginations but the designs will be showcased at the gallery and online. www.guggenheim.org

WHAT: CONTEMPLATING THE VOID: INTERVENTIONS IN THE GUGGENHEIM MUSEUM
 WHERE: SOLOMON R. GUGGENHEIM MUSEUM, NEW YORK
 WHEN: 12 FEBRUARY-28 APRIL 2010